Boston Scientific Announces Scheduled Presentations at Transcatheter Cardiovascular Therapeutics 2019

MARLBOROUGH, Mass., Sept. 18, 2019 / PRNewswire / -- Boston Scientific Corporation (NYSE: BSX) today announced key data that will be presented at the 31st Transcatheter Cardiovascular Therapeutics (TCT), the annual scientific symposium of the Cardiovascular Research Foundation, in San Francisco, on September 25 - September 29.

Notably, data from the EVOLVE Short DAPT study evaluating the safety of early dual antiplatelet therapy discontinuation in a large number of patients with high bleeding risk treated with the SYNERGYTM Bioabsorbable Polymer (BP) Stent will be featured during a late-breaking science session on Thursday, September 26.

"We look forward to the presentation of late-breaking data on our SYNERGY stent and the important discussions these data will warrant around the advancement of therapies to treat coronary artery disease," said Dr. Ian Meredith, AM., executive vice president and global chief medical officer, Boston Scientific. "We also will celebrate the milestone of 100,000 patient implants of the WATCHMAN™ Left Atrial Appendage Closure Device worldwide, and anticipate new clinical data across our Interventional Cardiology portfolio further supporting physicians as they determine the most appropriate treatment strategies for patients with cardiovascular disease."
