MARLBOROUGH, Mass., May 20, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- Boston Scientific Corporation (NYSE: BSX) announced that it has commenced concurrent offerings of $750.0 million of shares of its common stock ("Common Stock") and $750.0 million of shares of its Series A Mandatory Convertible Preferred Stock ("Mandatory Convertible Preferred Stock" and, together with the Common Stock, the "securities"), subject to market and other conditions (the "offerings"). Boston Scientific expects to grant the underwriters separate 30-day options to purchase up to an additional $112.5 million of shares of Common Stock and up to an additional $112.5 million of shares of Mandatory Convertible Preferred Stock.

Boston Scientific intends to use a portion of the combined net proceeds from the offerings to repay in full the remaining $750.0 million outstanding under its $1.25 billion term loan credit facility maturing on April 2021 and to pay related fees, expenses and premiums, after which it will be terminated. The remaining proceeds will be used for general corporate purposes, which may include refinancing or repayment of other outstanding indebtedness and funding potential future acquisitions and investments.

Each share of Mandatory Convertible Preferred Stock will have a liquidation preference of $100.00 per share. Unless earlier converted, each share of Mandatory Convertible Preferred Stock will automatically convert into a variable number of shares of Common Stock on or around June 1, 2023. The conversion rates, dividend rate and the other terms of the Mandatory Convertible Preferred Stock will be determined at the time of pricing.

The closing of each offering is not contingent upon the closing of the other offering.

J.P. Morgan and BofA Securities are acting as joint book-running managers for the offerings.

The offerings are being made pursuant to an effective shelf registration statement on file with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"). Each offering will be made by means of a prospectus and related preliminary prospectus supplement only.
