

Two Boston Scientific Executives to Participate in First Massachusetts Conference for Women

(December 6, 2005) -- Boston Scientific Corporation (NYSE: BSX) today announced that two of its senior executives are scheduled to participate in the first annual Massachusetts Conference for Women, which is being held on December 7 at the Boston Exhibition & Convention Center. Lucia Quinn, Executive Vice President of Human Resources, and Mary Russell, M.D., F.A.C.C., Senior Vice President, Clinical and Regulatory, and Chief Medical Officer, will take part in panel discussions at the Conference. Both are members of Boston Scientific

<https://news.bostonscientific.com/news-releases?item=58636>